So far we have received $1000.00 upfront from the Krause grant, and also $500.00 for a matching donation.

We discussed the chili luncheon at length which will be held March 22nd. We have six people making chili. Doug has handled the raffle tickets, press release, and posters. Besides the main three prizes, we will have a silent auction, book sale, and a bake sale.

The historic street is on hold until spring, and the decision for insurance is still undecided.

Murnell and Jerry Olson have donated a kitchen wood stove, a collection of imprinted milk bottles, and clothes irons.

At our next meeting in March, we will have an election for vice president, now filled by Carl Lantz, and Charlie Thompson's position on the board of directors.

Lyle Mork told of the Native American display that the Iola Historical Society is working on. They have received a vast collection of Indian artifacts and have been working with an archeologist from Stevens Point.
