Remember:

The next issue of the Shoppers Pilot will be out Friday, November 9.

First Issue In Forty-Five Years

After a sleep longer than that of Rip Van Winkle the SHOPPERS PILOT has been revived and will come into your homes every other Friday morning.

Norwegian Supper Sat., November 3rd.

Next Saturday, November 3rd, the annual Norwegian Supper will be served at the Scandinavia Lutheran Church beginning at 4 p.m. Serving will continue until all are served.

This event draws hundreds every year, some traveling great distances to partake of lutefisk, lefse and Norwegian pastries.

The Ladies Aid of the church does a tremendous amount of work each year to make the supper a success.

Father Locates Son After Long Search

There was quite a scarce in town on Thursday forenoon, October 18 about ten o'clock when the three year old boy of Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Fletcher had strayed away from his farm home. The Fletcher's reside on the Earl Knight farm, east of town, and they called the Sheriff's office at Waupaca and the local fire department when the child disappeared. Some high school students also took part in the search. There were tracks leading to a water hole near the farm and the fire department emptied the water out but found no trace of the boy. Then about 12:30 p.m., a cry was heard in the vicinity of the railroad tracks. After further searching the youngster was found, hooked up in a wire fence, and more scared than hurt. He was taken home and the search was over and the people were happy and much relieved to have their son safe and sound again.

This issue is a pilot issue of the SHOPPERS PILOT with the first official copy scheduled to be delivered to your homes on Friday, November 9th and then on every other Friday morning thereafter.

This is the first Pilot printed in forty-five years. Teman A. Peterson, former Scandinavia printer, published the Shoppers Pilot as an advertising media for the local merchants and to print local and school news. He suspended printing the Pilot on December 9, 1911 in favor of The Trumpet, a school paper printed for the Scandinavia Academy and the Central Wisconsin College.

The Trumpet was in circulation until 1932 when the college closed and the Union High School organized.

The new Shoppers Pilot will be printed in the same format as before, having eight pages with three columns per page. It will be mailed free of charge to people in the Village of Scandinavia and in the surrounding area. Advertising of local businessmen, classified ads, local news, features, sports, news of those away from home and a calendar of coming events will be in every issue.

The printer of the Shoppers Pilot is John Gertsch who purchased Teman Peterson's print shop twelve years ago. He advises anyone having items of interest that can be used to please write them down and turn them in to him rather than to call them in by telephone. This will save time and decrease the chance of error. News items and ads must be in by the deadline—Tuesday before the Friday of publication.

LOCAL NEWS

There will be an auction sale at the late Mrs. F. J. Anderson residence, in the village, on Saturday afternoon, October 27, at one o'clock.

Mrs. Herbert Koske of Milwaukee spent last weekend with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Krostue, and other relatives.

Miss Lorraine Stephenson left for Chicago on Sunday after spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Anna Stephenson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Rasmussen are visiting at the Axel Rasmussen home in Fayette, Michigan, this week.

Mrs. Arlie Knutson of St. Paul, Minn., visited several days last week with her mother, Mrs. P. H. Peterson.

There has been quite a bit of work on the high school ball diamond gone the past week. The fences and bleachers have been removed and county graders have been leveling out the grounds and adding fill in low spots. The fences and bleachers will be replaced as soon as the area is done and will be re-seeded.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hays returned to Oklahoma City on Friday after visiting relatives here.

Miss Daisy Buer spent last weekend with relatives in Fort Atkinson.

The Church Circles will meet next Tuesday afternoon, October 30, with these hostesses: No. 1, Miss Kate Krostue; No. 2, Mrs. Andrew Holtebeck; No. 3, Miss Josephine Vofe, and No. 4, Mrs. Roy Nottleson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Williams of Chicago were weekend guests at S. H. Krostue's, and visited Mrs. Tilla Engebretson at the Iola Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mork and family returned to Milwaukee last Friday, after visiting relatives here for a week.

Atty. and Mrs. S. W. Krostue and sons of New London visited at his parental home, the W. A. Krostues, on Sunday.

Mrs. Melinda Laughlin, who visited relatives in Milwaukee the past week, returned on Monday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Amelia Nottleson.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Shea of Chicago spent Saturday to Sunday at the Harold Nelson residence.

Tuesday, November 6th, is Election Day, so folks, go to the polls and cast your vote. Be glad you live in a country where you have a choice of candidates.

Congratulations

Miss June Danielson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Danielson, Ogdensburg, recently completed a three year training course in professional nursing at Deaconess hospital in Milwaukee.

After spending a short vacation at home, she returned to Deaconess hospital where she will become a staff nurse in the surgical ward.

Miss Danielson is a 1953 graduate of Scandinavia high school.

High School Closes For Convention

Scandy High School will be closed from noon, Wednesday, Oct. 31, until the next Monday as the teachers will be attending the State Teachers Convention in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

On Sept. 14, we had our annual initiation party for the freshman. Everyone enjoyed the program and the evening ended with dancing and pop and ice cream for everyone.

We have selected Frank Hansen as our master of ceremonies for the 1956 carnival. our carnival this year will be held on October 26th.

Recently we organized a teenage book club. Ann Trinrud and Charleen Krueger were selected as secretary and assistant secretary respectfully. Each month we get a new selection of books which we can order.

The play cast has been chosen for this year's one-act play. The name of the play is "Elizabeth" and will be presented at Mattoon on November 7th.

The Juniors ordered their class rings a few weeks ago. Everyone is patiently waiting for them to arrive.

Last week all the students had their pictures taken. On Tuesday, October 9th, Senior pictures were taken.

On Monday, November 5, at 8 p.m., the high school drama department will present 'Elizabeth', this year's contest one-act play, at the Scandinavia Community Hall.

On Wednesday, Nov. 7, they travel to Mattoon, WI* and enter the Wolf River Valley Dramatic Contest with the same play.

Mail Overseas Christmas Packages By November 15

The Post Office Department has again designated the period October 15 to November 15 for the acceptance of Christmas parcels for members of the Armed Forces overseas.

Time of mailing of Christmas parcels is of utmost importance as no assurance can be given that surface parcels mailed after November 15, or air parcel post mailed after December 1, will be delivered in time for Christmas.

Senders should not delay the mailing of parcels until December on the assumption that timely delivery will be assured through the use of air service. In addition to a large volume of Christmas mail it is necessary that medical and military supplies be given the highest priority on the available overseas airlift.

After an air parcel arrives overseas final delivery, in many cases, must be made through the use of such surface transportation as is available. Parcels destined for delivery in Japan, Korea, and the islands in the Pacific should be mailed as early as possible, preferably not later than November 1, in view of the distance involved.

Air parcel post is limited in size to 30 inches in length and girth combined and 2 pounds in weight. Addresses must be legible and should be prepared in typewriting or ink. It is preferable that the outside addresses be handprinted directly on the wrappers of the boxes rather than on labels pasted to the wrappers, since the labels frequently fall off when subjected to moisture.

It is highly desirable that a slip of paper containing the names and addresses of the sender and addressee, together with a list of the contents be enclosed in each parcel to provide identification in the event the addresses on the outside become defaced in transportation.

Greeting cards for Armed Forces personnel overseas may be mailed at any time, but they should be deposited with postage prepaid at the first-class rate prior to November 15; at the airmail rate prior to December 1, if they are to have reasonable expectation of delivery prior to Christmas.

Leo Helgeson

Funeral services for the late Leo Helgeson, of Waupaca, were held on October 13 at Scandinavia Lutheran Church, Rev. E. R. Larson officiating at 2 p.m.

Two songs, "Abide With Me," and "Beneath The Cross of Jesus," were sung by Misses Ann Trinrud and Lois Melby, accompanied at the organ by Miss Nancy Trinrud.

Pallbearers were Kermit Anderson, Clarence Blom, Anton, Harold, Nels and Robert Rasmussen. Interment took place in Scandinavia Lutheran Cemetery.

The Shoppers Pilot is not a newspaper! It is third class mail (printed matter) and will be mailed from Scandinavia, Wis., under Bulk Rate Permit No. 2.

To qualify for 2nd class postage rates a paper must have a paid subscription list. The Shoppers Pilot cannot be sent as 2nd class mail as it is being sent to everyone in our shopping area without charge to them.

You will receive the Pilot every other Friday morning—filled, we hope, with news items, features and advertising that will be of interest to all Scandinavians.

If you have news or announcements that you would like printed we will be happy to include them—to the limit of space available.

We hope you will be happy with our effort in making this paper good reading material and a good advertising method for our local businessmen.

Many times it has been mentioned by former residents of our community that they lose track of the people and happenings. We hope the Pilot will be of interest to those away as well as to our local people.

Because of production and postage expense it is not possible to distribute the Shoppers Pilot free of charge to those outside our area. To those the subscription price will be $2.00 per year. I am sure that many will avail themselves of this opportunity to make us all closer together.

In addition to the paper, subscribers will be welcome to many other services from the Pilot.

With help from friends and relatives I have compiled a list of names and addresses of people who used to reside here — most of whom I know personally. Anyone who wishes the address of anyone on my list need only to request it—anyone who wants information from me—need only to ask—the only requirement is they enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Let me hear from you! Tell the advertisers you saw their ads in the Pilot.

The 1956 Viking Baseball Season

by Art Lee Jr.

With the coming of Fall, Mother Nature appears once again to scatter far and wide the autumn leaves, with that same Fall on-coming comes another scattering, a human scattering, a scattering of the roster of the local town baseball team to all points and places.

The usual assemblage of faces and physiques on the local diamond that are so familiar to the hometown fans all summer long suddenly leave for Parts Unknown, scattered around as the leaves are.

And strangely so, or maybe not so strangely, like they're following a migrating pattern, that old team suddenly reappears the next spring for that first "Play Ball!" It's that same old gang, with maybe a new face or two added, dressed in their clean white uniforms with the word Vikings across the front of the suit, back at their familiar positions again as though they never left them, and ready to launch another summer season.

And for the fan, it's much the same, too, for generally it's the same fan who plunks himself down in his favorite spot of last year who's there to watch another season. And whether or not he thinks it's good or bad, the view in front of him out there on the playing field presents a familiar picture:

There's the same portly, dumping figure at third base exchanging jests with the sidelines; the familiar hulking figure of the Manager pipe in mouth, lumbering down to his third base coaching box; he sees the familiar short, stocky figure in center field standing there with his ragged glove in his hand, waiting to run like the wind after a fly ball; there sits the same wizened scorekeeper, his face generally expressionless, wearing his brown slacks and plaid sport shirt and a baseball cap on his head, sucking quietly on a cigar as he puts his pencil to the scorebook; the fan looks afield again to witness the same well-built boy with the big claw glove on his hand prepared to do the splits to get that runner out by a half-step; and there's that same towering, rawboned figure in the infield, his big strong hands set to grab and hurl that ball like a bullet; the same big frame of a man standing straight as a statue in left field, whose gloved hand waiting for a ball is considered by his teammates as an automatic out. The fan's gaze continues to shift to the rest of the familiar players as they play the game that has come to mean so much to them—often to the consternation of wives and girl friends who would like to do other things on Sunday afternoons, but whose menfolk will have none of it.

Anyway, if everything runs true to that sameness, that fan expects his team to win, because, if for no other reason, they won last year and the years before; and thus, fortunately or unfortunately, it's becoming accepted that they're just supposed to win again. The fan expects it.

Now, however, Fall is here, the team has scattered, and the old fan can now look back reflectively on the past season and try to recall, somewhat unsuccessfully, all the things that happened. He remembers vaguely this game or that particular hit, this run or that error, this batting average or that put-out—but it's all kind of hard to remember. Some things, however, do stick in his mind:

He can't help but remember that the boys had tied again for the League championship for the third year in a row; and that that last playoff loss to Waupaca was just about an "almost" win; and that 2-0 playoff win before it was as fine a pitching performance as Lee Thompson had ever turned in.

And he recalled individual plays, for example, the time Mary Jacobson playing in deep right field threw out this New London player who tried to score from third; the time Julian Mork smacked a three-run homer in the 10th to trip Manawa there under the lights; and he definitely remembered the many times that little Dave Nelson used to cover that infield like a prowling cat, and run bases like wild; and how first sacker Lowell Peterson could twist himself into a pretzel to grab any and all throws.

And then he remembered those amusing times, too; for instance, the time when the team had to stand ankle-deep in mud in the batter's box after a thunder storm in Big Falls; the mournful moans of Manager Gordon Trinrud when he leaped up in the dugout at Symco and banged his head on the roof; and there was also that time at Symco when a player finished rounding the bases in his stocking feet; and the time Harvey Colrupe struck out five times in a row at Iola—at a quarter a strike-out; and who could forget the heated invectives hurled between Manager Trinrud and umpire Ted Davidson; and also that raucous, persistent demand of grounds-keeper Cliff ("You Bet") Peterson who was always calling for that "long drive to left;" and of course there were all those times that Bucky Carr had to remove his dog from the playing field.

All those things he remembers with nostalgia, and many more, too. And all in all he's kind of proud of the fact that his home town has a good summer ball team, and that his town is getting recognized for that. Now his story closes for another year and it's almost all forgotten, except for those times during the winter when he drops in at Gordon's Emporium and notes the pictures, banners and trophies that adorn the walls. But now he can only sit waiting for the next spring to come to witness a new unveiling of an old bunch of ballplayers, a group of ex-youngsters who still feel like youngsters when they start to play that game they like so well.

Had our fan looked in the scorebooks, he would have found this statistical information: the 1956 team had a 14-4 season record and a 12-3 league record for a co-championship; the 1955 record was exactly the same as this year's; the record for 1954 was 18-5, a co-championship in the League and a BABA Grand Championship. Thus over the past three years they've compiled a 46-13 record which broken down is a .779 average or about eight wins out of every ten games.

This year's individual batting leaders were Mork with a mark of .356, Nelson with .354 and Hans Hansen with .321. The long ball department was handled mostly by Mork and Thompson, with frequent help from Colrupe, Peterson and the Carr brothers.

Booster Club Gives Party For Workers

OYSTER STEW

The Booster Club held its annual Oyster Stew and Card Party at the Community Hall Tuesday evening, October 16. One hundred people attended the party which is given each year for the many faithful workers who help make the Scandinavia Free Fair a success.

Progressive Whist was played during the evening until the oyster stew was served and a dartball game was played by those who were not playing whist.

Prizes were awarded for the high and low scores for the men and the high and low scores for the women of the card game. A very enjoyable evening was had by all. The Booster Club again expresses its thanks to all who worked at the fair and regrets that some were unable to attend the party.

F. J. Zuehlke

Ferdinand J. Zuehlke, 91, Scandinavia, died at Riverside hospital Wednesday, Oct. 5.

The retired cabinet maker, was born May 14, 1865 in Germany and came to America in 1868, when he lived in Oshkosh. For 61 years he worked for the Fuller-Goodman Co. in this field after which he retired five years ago.

He married Isabelle Fredericksen in 1901 and she died in 1938. Mr. Zuehlke then married again in 1946, this time to his present wife, Martha Anderson of Waupaca.

Among the survivors are his wife Martha, four step children, two sisters—Mrs. Pauline Kohls of Arpin, Wis., and Mrs. Anna Moeller of Milwaukee.

The funeral was held at the Holly Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, where Rev. Elmer Larson of the Scandinavia Lutheran church officiated. Burial was in the Lakeside cemetery.

The pall bearers were Lloyd Topping, Andrew Holtebeck, Irving Gottschalk, Rex Dean, Robert Johnson and Hans Rasmussen.

Donald W. Wied

Donald W. Wied, 614½ Mill st., Waupaca, died at the age of 43, Thursday evening, Oct. 11 at Riverside Hospital, Waupaca.

Formerly employed at the Blatz Brewery in Milwaukee, Mr. Wied was born in the town of Lind, Sept. 19, 1913. He married the former Viola Halvorson in Dubuque, Ia., April 1, 1939.

Survivors include three daughters—Barbara, Sharon and Patricia—all at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wied of Almond; three brothers—John, Robert and Douglas—all of Milwaukee; and five sisters, Mrs. Grace Halvorson of Waupaca and Mrs. Gwendolyn Batten of Rexford, Mont. Also Mrs. Virginia Hammond, Mrs. Beverly Gagliano, and Mrs. Carol Pavelski, all of Milwaukee.

The funeral was held at 2 p.m. Monday, Oct. 15 at the Trinity Lutheran church where Rev. A. S.

Peterson officiated. Burial was in the Scandinavia Lutheran cemetery.

The pall bearers were Douglas Halvorson; William Vaughn, Leonad Vaughn, Walter Wied, Jr., Robert Hansen, and Louis Miller. The Holly Funeral Home was in charge.
